President Harrison Says "Being Sorry" Is Not Enough.

Retraction, Reparation and a Pub-

Request for Egan's Recall Cannot at Present Be Considered.

Message and Diplomatic Correspondence Laid Before Congress.
To-Day.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The President's message on the Chilean affair, together with the diplomatic correspondence and other documents, was laid before Congress to-day.

The message is characterized by extreme firmness. The President says:

I HAVE NOTIFIED THE CHILIAN GOVERNMENT THAT UNLESS THIS [THE MATTIA] NOTE IS AT ONCE WITHDRAWN AND AN APOLOGY AS PUBLIC AS THE OFFENSE MADE, I WILL TERMINATE DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS.

In relation to the Chilean request for the recall of Egan, he says it was unaccompanied by any suggestion that could properly be used in support of it. He adds:

BUT, HOWEVER THAT MAY BE, I COULD NOT CONSENT TO CONSIDER SUCH A QUESTION UNTIL IT HAD FIRST BEEN SETTLED WHETHER OUR CORRESPONDENCE WITH CHILI COULD BE CONDUCTED UPON A BASIS OF MUTUAL RESPECT.

The correspondence shows both these declarations strongly brought out in Mr. Blaine's ultimatum to Chile sent by direction of the President Jan. 21.

This ultimatum, as accepted in the message, also calls for prompt reparation for the Baltimore assault, in addition to the apology demanded.

It is plainly intimated that the time for patience and waiting is over.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The President's Message on the Chilean affair, accompanied by the diplomatic correspondence, was laid before Congress at noon to-day.

The Message is as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C., January 25, 1892.—Sir:—I have laid before you my message to the President of the United States, transmitting to Congress the results of my interview with the Chilean Government, and the correspondence which has been exchanged between me and the Chilean Minister of Foreign Affairs, and the Chilean Minister of War, and the Secretary of the Navy, and also the evidence taken at the Mare Island Navy-Yards, and the information received from Capt. Jenkins, of the merchant ship Keweenaw, corroborating the statement of Capt. Schley that he was himself an American sailor, and the general subterfuge and evasion of our men, who were serving on board the ship.

It is my opinion that the time has now come when I should lay before the Senate and the House of Representatives the facts of the case, and the course of action which I have adopted, with the advice of the Executive Department, relating to this matter.

The diplomatic correspondence is herewith transmitted, together with some correspondence between the Chilean Government and the Secretary of the Navy, and also the evidence taken at the Mare Island Navy-Yards, and the information received from Capt. Jenkins, of the merchant ship Keweenaw, corroborating the statement of Capt. Schley that he was himself an American sailor, and the general subterfuge and evasion of our men, who were serving on board the ship.

It doth not seem necessary in this communication to attempt any full analysis of the correspondence or of the evidence. A brief restatement of the main points involved in the case, and of the reasons for which the responses of the Chilean government are unsatisfactory is all that I deem necessary.

MAN DEFENDED.

It may be at the outset to say that, whatever may have been the case, in Chile in criticism of Mr. Egan, our Minister to Santiago, the true history of this exciting period in Chilean affairs, from the outbreak of the revolution until this time, we must believe, was not of such a性质 that it could justify the occasion of serious animadversion or criticism.

About 6 o'clock the assault began, and it is remarkable that the investigation by the Judge of the Court of Appeals, so far as can be learned, did not find that there was more satisfactory account of its origin than is found in the statement that it began between drunk sailors.

Reportedly, it is said, that it was impossible to learn the precise cause of the riot.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs, Mattia, in his telegram to the President, says: "I have to state that the quarrel began between two sailors in a tavern, and was continued in the street, persons who were passing joining in."

The testimony of Talbot, an American who was with Egan, is that the outbreak in which they were involved began by a sailor, who, after shooting his gun, went to a tavern, and there the quarrel began between two sailors in a tavern, and was continued in the street, persons who were passing joining in."
